Considerations

Security and Privacy are #1

The security and privacy of your consumer's data is our #1 concern. Whether in-flight or at rest, your consumer's personally-identifiable information are protected according to the latest standards.

Reliable and Scalable

Nike services are built for reliability and scalability, reaping the benefits of cloud network architecture as the backbone of our services.

The Latest Web Standards

Join the web economy by using the common language of the internet to interact with Nike services. Your developers will be familiar with issuing JSON-formatted requests to Nike's REST web services using the standard HTTP protocol.
